May 24, 2003

★ Good Morning Nic Fans!! We have had a slow few weeks, here at the group. There isn't much Nic news out there at this time but I would like to ask that you still post your ideas, games, pics and what ever you have to keep the group active. A big thank you goes out to all who have helped with this weeks newsletter!!!

★ Welcome to all new members, we now have 170 N.I.C. members and growing daily! You all are great and that's what make a great group and I for one say "we are a great group" - so thank you all!!

Requests

I would like to publish one fan review each newsletter. So I ask that each and everyone of you send me your review on your favorite Nic movie. Even the members who never post - please send them in!! Send them to me colleen@magentasky.com

June will soon be here and we (the N.I.C. staff) will choose another Member of the month (MOTM), so I ask, who ever doesn't already have their pic added to the members area, can you please submit it to me by the end of this week?? Please send it to me at colleen@magentasky.com or go to the group site and down load it to the members pic folder in the photo section.

Reminders

I want to remind everyone that Kim (co-owner of N.I.C.) will be away all this coming week, so if you need any assistance on anything, please email nicinfo-owner@yahoo.com

If you are a new member and have not filled out the N.I.C. Questionnaire yet please take a moment to do so.

Announcements

Renee is our new way of the week coordinator, and has been doing a great job. Each week she will upload a new way to our files section at the group site, and a post will go out to all as soon as she loads it. To find the ways go to <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/nicinfo/files/>

I also want to announce that Renee will be adding some fun to our newsletter, called Scavenger Hunt she will list things to find and you can enjoy looking for them. It starts today - you will find it below in the newsletter. Have fun!!
Thanks Renee!!

Lisa will be doing a poll a week - for everyone to enjoy!! Thanks Lisa

? I am looking for and interview called "Psychobabble with Nic Cage" can anyone help me with this??

I once again have changed the format of the newsletter, I will however still have them made into pdf. files and uploaded to the group site and to cagefactor. Some are having problems opening the pdf. files and I want everyone to be able to enjoy all the news, reviews, links and other important things that we all gather and share here.

The group is growing 😊 - N.I.C. was founded in January of this year, and in just 5 months we have become a great Nicolas Cage Discussion group. Many members have come from Toncas, cagefactor and/or just found us searching the net. So as we grow I want the new members to know that I am looking for Volunteers to join our staff - we have a great staff that works hard and takes pride in the newsletter, so you will be welcomed with open arms - positions below if interested - if you have any ideas that are not listed here, please send them to me so we can discuss it..

Nic's Up-Coming Movies

someone who can look up information on up-coming movies.

Links Coordinator

someone to gather links from all the posts in-between newsletters

News Editor

someone who can hunt down news or gather it as it comes in to the group.

Website of the week

you choose a Nic related website to post as the website of the week.

Poll Builder

one who makes a poll every week or other week from our poll section at the group

Interviews

someone who can track down all the interviews that Nic ever did. From Mags to online interviews.

If you are interested - please e-mail me with the position of interest in the subject line and we can discuss it further.

It takes two to fill Britt's bodice as Hollywood remakes Wicker Man

Even an actress voted one of the world's top 10 sexiest women isn't enough to replace Britt Ekland in the Hollywood remake of cult classic The Wicker Man. The producers of the new film have employed two actresses to seduce the male lead, played by Nicholas Cage.

In the 1973 original, the sight of a naked, writhing Ekland is enough to send Edward Woodward's prim police officer Sergeant Howie over the edge. But in the remake, Tomb Raider star Angelina Jolie -- voted one of the world's top 10 sexiest women in a UK magazine poll earlier this year -- has to join forces with Winona Ryder to win over Cage.

What's in the Cards for Nicolas Cage not sure of the date on this.

Nicolas Cage may have won his Oscar for Leaving Las Vegas, but he's heading back to the City of Sin. Cage is negotiating for the role of legendary poker player Thomas Austin "Amarillo Slim" Preston, whose memoir, Amarillo Slim in a World Full of Fat People, comes out this week. A flamboyant gambler and promoter, Slim won the World Series of Poker in 1972 and is known for stunts like beating billiards legend Minnesota Fats at pool using a broomstick, defeating Wimbledon champ Bobby Riggs with a skillet, and rafting down Idaho's River of No Return in freezing weather just because Jimmy "the Greek" Snyder bet him he couldn't. Cage's rep confirms that the actor is in talks to buy the rights. In other movie-deal news, Sid Bernstein, the man who booked the Beatles' first U.S. show at Carnegie Hall in 1964 as well as their Shea Stadium concert, may soon see his life story on the small screen. TNT is close to buying the rights to his 2001 memoir, It's Sid Bernstein Calling . . ., and hopes to get it on the air in February, to mark the fortieth anniversary of the Fab Four's arrival. We hear Robin Williams has expressed interest in starring, but Bernstein says he's hoping for Al Pacino.

Ghost Rider News

Voight Mulls Ghost Role

thanks Kim

Jon Voight told SCI FI Wire that he is in talks to play a villain in Ghost Rider, the upcoming film adaptation of the Marvel Comics series. "If you're going to play a strong character in these pieces, and you're not the leading man, you're usually going to get cast in the [villain's] role," Voight said in an interview. Voight declined to say which of the comic series' many villains he will play.

Crystal Sky Communications, the production company in which Voight is a partner, is co-producing the film with Marvel Entertainment and Sony's Columbia Pictures. Voight said his Crystal Sky connection led the producers to consider casting him. Mark Steven Johnson (Daredevil) is writing and directing Ghost Rider, with Nicolas Cage in the title role. No start date has been announced.

A-listers Among AIMA Supporters

On Tuesday, the guilds trotted out their list of SAG and AFTRA members -- including George Clooney, Kevin Spacey, Willie Nelson, Angela Bassett, Jackson Browne, Nicolas Cage, Kevin Costner, Bob Edwards, Billy Crystal, Janeane Garofalo, Hector Elizondo, Danny Glover and Tom Hanks -- who have signed on as official endorsees of the proposed creation of the Alliance of International Media Artists. A SAG spokeswoman described the list as a work in progress, with names expected to be added in the coming weeks.

Cage gets caught in downpour

14/05/2003 - 09:33:37

thanks Kim

It is hard to believe but it sometimes does rain in LA and Nicolas Cage got caught in a downpour while riding his Harley.

He pulled into a petrol station to wait it out and when a group of female fans saw who it was under the helmet they offered the soaked actor a lift home. He accepted, stored his bike at the garage, and got into the car with his giggling rescuers.

But they wouldn't take him home until they stopped at a fast-food restaurant where a friend worked to show off the "Adaptation" star.

Nic was so good-natured about it he even sprang for burgers and fries.

Step Away From The Joypad

thanks Kimberlee

Nicolas Cage has embraced the game-to-film path for what may be his next project, an adaptation of violent videogame, Dead To Rights

Based on the PlayStation hit, the film will cast Cage as the implausibly butch Jake Slate, a disgraced cop on a mission to discover who murdered his father.

While no further plot details are available, the game itself sees Slate 'investigate' the mystery by mowing down hundreds of thousands of hoodlums with an increasingly devastating arsenal picked up along the way - somehow circumventing the usual 28 day waiting period.

TIDBIT

Nicolas Cage (Producer)

Academy Award-winner Nicolas Cage was raised in Long Beach, California and lived there until his family moved to San Francisco when he was 12. He began acting at age 15, when he enrolled in San Francisco's American Conservatory Theater. There he appeared in the school's production of "Golden Boy." He later moved to Los Angeles and, while still a high school student, landed a role in the television film "The Best of Times." He made his feature film debut in RUMBLEFISH.

Since then, Cage has quickly become one of the most versatile young actors of our time. He is equally known for his poignant portrayals in both drama and comedy, moving freely from such action films as FACE/OFF and THE ROCK, to more independent spirited films such as LEAVING LAS VEGAS, (for which he won an Oscar and a Golden Globe for Best Actor,) and RED ROCK WEST.

Cage has received Golden Globe nominations for such films as MOONSTRUCK and HONEYMOON IN VEGAS. Having always been drawn to the independent arena, he established Saturn Films in late 1996 in order to produce such fare, in addition to studio-based films. SHADOW OF THE VAMPIRE is the first production to come out of this new venture.

MOVIE TALK

Movie of the week

THE ROCK

Synopsis

In Michael Bay's THE ROCK, gung-ho general Francis Hummel (Ed Harris), armed with deadly chemical rockets and aided by violent cohorts, takes over the island of Alcatraz, holding 81 tourists hostage. Hummel promises to deploy the missiles over San Francisco if Washington doesn't make amends to ignored combat victims to the tune of $100 million. A cadre of Navy SEALs are dispatched to quell the situation, assisted by the mysterious, macho John Mason (Sean Connery), the only man to ever escape from Alcatraz, who must now help the SEALs break back in. Joining them is mild-mannered chemical weapons expert Stanley Goodspeed (Nicolas Cage), who is unaccustomed to such things as guns and military maneuvers. Their high-octane mission is filled with surprises, particularly after Hummel and company quickly annihilate the SEALs--leaving Mason and Goodspeed to save the day all by themselves.

Movie Review

by: Nicole

Put together two Oscar winners (Sean Connery and Nicolas Cage), an Oscar nominee (Ed Harris), the slick producing team of Jerry Bruckheimer and the late Don Simpson, a stylish action director (Michael Bay), Alcatraz, and a bunch of explosives and you get... a major action hit, which The Rock is sure to become this summer.

The somewhat preposterous plot has a group of renegade Marines, led by General Francis X. Hummel (Harris), seizing control of the legendary island prison, take its visitors hostage, and threatening to launch a deadly biological weapon at the San Francisco bay area if the United States Government does not give the families of dead Desert Storm vets millions in government aid. What does the government do? Call in a force of Navy SEALs (led by Michael Biehn), assisted by FBI biochemist Stanley Goodspeed (Cage) and John Patrick Mason (Connery), an old prisoner who was the only person ever to escape "the rock," to try to break into Alcatraz, thwart Hummel and free the hostages.

Contrary to outward appearances, this project shares a number of striking similarities with Bay's Bad Boys, and not just in terms of visual style. Both films open with a break-in; both feature an elaborate chase sequence which ends with a circling shot of the hero(es) getting up off of the street; both are essentially bickering buddy films; and in both one of the heroes has to overcome a shortcoming that the other ridicules: in Bad Boys, Martin Lawrence had to learn how to drive fast; in The Rock, Cage's scientist character has to learn how to handle a combat situation. Parts of the film are also strongly reminiscent of Crimson Tide, with a little Executive Decision and Outbreak thrown in. But these similarities to other films don't detract from the enjoyment of The Rock on its own terms, which is not to say it's not without its problems. While its opening 45 minutes are far from boring, it takes that long for the plot to really get going, i.e. for the "good guys" to begin their break into Alcatraz, when the film really starts cooking. Bay uses a lot of the flashy eye candy visuals he brought to Bad Boys--lots of blue light, slow motion, quick camera moves and editing. But unlike his debut film, here his style comes dangerously close to being at the expense of coherence. It's one thing to use the "shaky cam," but it's quite another to use it while it is fixed in a tight closeup of something or someone; the resulting chaotic shot is more confusing than visually arresting. In spite of this, though, Bay really knows how to stage exciting action scenes (the aforementioned chase scene, while using every chase cliché in the book including the infamous fruit cart, is a real standout) and large--very large--explosions and juggle them seamlessly with the comedy, which David Weisberg, Douglas S. Cook, and Mark Rosner's lively script surprisingly has a lot of.

In taking a dive into action, it would be easy to think that Cage has sold out, abandoning his trademark quirky characters for a more straightforward, mainstream action hero. Happily, that's not the case. Goodspeed is as much an oddball as Cage's usual roles, a neurotic, wimpy Beatlemaniac who only very gradually toughens up; needless to say, Cage is perfect in the role. Connery proves he still is a credible action hero after all these years though having his character being a former agent of the British Secret Service seems a bit too gratuitous. Harris adds layers of complexity to a not very dimensional role, and Vanessa Marcil (my favorite General Hospital star) manages to make a lasting impression as Goodspeed's pregnant girlfriend Carla. Those not so fortunate actingwise are Biehn, who is wasted once again as the SEAL leader (isn't it time that he be cast in a role deserving of his talent?), and William Forsythe's FBI director is just a rehash of his police chief character in Virtuosity.

The Rock's ads urge you to "get ready to rock." After seeing this energetic action-packed ride that truly does "rock," I can't think of better advice.

All members are invited to send in Nic related questions to the newsletter. One of our dedicated team will then do their best to find the answers and post them here.

Anything Nic related is welcome - a question about a particular movie, about his co-stars (or co-cars) and even his life. Provided it doesn't infringe on Nic's personal space we will endeavour to answer you.

Nic Look Alikes

Poem shared by Amber:

In My Mind

Melodies play their lingering notes
upon the clouds of thought lingering
in my mind.

Notes dance upon the waves of sound floating through the many thoughts
in my mind.

Music echoes and sings and calls my name

among the many names lingering
in my mind.
Dance whispers "shall we?" and I take his hand from among the images and melodies playing
in my mind.

N.I.C. STAFF

Colleen- founder and newsletter editor and webmaster to cagefactor, I also take care of the MOTW - POTW and I am one of the chat monitors. I am just happy to be here! :) I started this group so we all had a place to call home.

colleen@magentasky.com

Kim - Co-Owner/Moderator - Newsletter Staff Member, who has also works very hard to help out here at N.I.C. Kim, formats the newsletter into a pdf file so we can add it to the site for those who have an e-mail client that doesn't allow pics and this makes for easy viewing for anyone who wants to read past newsletters. She also does the trivia and quote of the week.

Thanks Kim!!

allhan2@aol.com

Doreen & Dawn - Chat Monitors - Don't miss the chats that we have 3 times a month. You will get a schedule each month and reminders. Thanks Ladies for a job well done!!

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/nicininfo/chat>

Lisa - Newsletter Staff Member - Poll coordinator - Lisa will make a new poll each week to keep the group active and fun, she also coordinates the Questions & Answers - If you have a Nic related question let us know.

Rose - Game coordinator - Rose will send activities to the group each week for fun and entertainment!!

Renee - Newsletter Staff - is our Wav of the week coordinator and now is also starting something new, she will be coordinating a fun activity called Scavenger Hunt where she will send in things to go find - fun fun fun!!!

Nicole - Newsletter Staff - Movie of the week coordinator!!

NIC INFORMATION

If anyone is interested in helping out with the newsletter, calendar, chats, doing research, or just keeping the list in good working order, we would love the help, and your input!! E-mail nicinfo-owner@yahoogroups.com

If your N.I.C. subscription ever becomes too heavy to handle or you're going on vacation or moving, you can do two things, have your mail options changed to...

- 1 - "digest" (messages arrive in batches of 25 or fewer, without attachments)
- 2 - "no mail." With "no mail," you can read messages (and open attachments) directly from the Internet. (This is good if you don't have high-speed access.) You can change your mail options yourself by going to <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/nicininfo/>. You will be asked to sign in if you've never done so before. If you can't remember your password, request a change to a new one that you can remember. Once you've signed in, you can also access "Chat" and "Files" and "Photos" and other areas of interest.

Please keep the Nics Information Club discussion list fun for everyone....

1) Keep your comments respectful of Nicolas and his family. After all, he is the reason we exist, we do not condone the spread of hurtful tabloid rumors. We do, however, allow tabloid photos, as they tend to be more accurate. If you have doubts about a tidbit you just found, send it to one of the staff members so that the moderating staff can mull it over before sending it to the group.

2) Even though his house is on the Hollywood Star Tour, Nicolas's home address is not to be posted to the list in an effort to give him an inkling of privacy.

3) Please keep your comments respectful of other members. By all means, have serious discussions. Just edit out any personal insults before sending. Remember Nicolas' golden rule: "It's ok to be different". Meeting people online from different cultures, religions, perspectives, and backgrounds makes our lives much richer. We can learn a lot from each other. Remember: "It is nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice." (Cage)

4) "NNR" is used in the subject head when the topic is "not Nic related." This notifies members that they can simply delete the message and not miss any Nic-related discussion. "SNR" is used to mean "sorta Nic related." Please do not forward to the list chain letters or messages whose primary purpose is commercial.
