This is from someone who signed the cagefactor guestbook, thanks for sharing!!

On a trip to Chicago we saw the filming of "The Weather Man". We were walking to the Hard Rock Cafe for dinner when we noticed that a man was working on the lights. We asked him what he was doing and he said he was getting the street lights ready for a movie. Down the street we could see some filming in front of a Walgreens. When we finished dinner they were at the corner in front of the Rain Forest Cafe. We stayed for about 45 mins. and watched them make a fake winter wonderland. We also saw the director who was supposedly the lady who filmed Pirates of the Caribbean. Also the sister of the girl who plays Joan from Joan of Arcadia was there too. It was awesome to see them making the movie! The fake snow was so real! A few little kids were even trying to eat them.

'Weather Man' stars spread sunshine *march 18

Michael Caine and Nicolas Cage made a bunch of new friends while filming "The Weather Man" at the University of Illinois Medical Center at Chicago this week. The actors spent a lot of time on the pediatrics floor Monday and, after they finished shooting, spent time quietly chatting with patients, signing autographs and posing for photos.

Particularly excited to pose with the two Oscar winners was Christopher Szybinski, 13, of Chicago Ridge -- who had spent much of the day patiently waiting to meet the stars. Considering the young ages of so many patients, a hospital source says she was surprised so many of the kids knew who they were. She added that when the duo from the new "Blues Brothers" play were here a few weeks ago, they also visited pediatrics, but most of the kids "thought they were the 'Men in Black!'"

Caine connected with someone closer to his own age. A man approached the actor for an autograph for his wife -- a patient at the hospital. When the man told Caine his wife's name was Rosamunde, the British actor said, "Oh, that's German," then proceeded to carry on a brief conversation with the man in fluent German. After delivering the autograph to his ill wife, the man said, "You don't know how much this helped my wife." <http://www.suntimes.com/output/zwecker/cst-fty-zp181.html>

Movie Of The Week

[Windtalkers] - by Nicole

Synopsis:

In the brutal World War II Battle of Saipan, Sergeant Joe Enders (Academy Award winner Nicolas Cage) guards and ultimately befriends - Ben Yahzee (Adam Beach), a young Navajo trained in the one wartime code never broken by the enemy, the Navajo Code. But if Yahzee should fall into Japanese hands, how far will Enders go to save the military's most powerful secret? John Woo directs this "exciting" (Premiere) "against-all-odds battle adventure" (The Toronto Star) written by John Rice and Joe Batteer and inspired by the true story of the Navajo soldiers whose courage and sacrifices helped win the war in the Pacific.

from <http://www.grabadisc.com/album.asp?barcode=8888837008015>

Review:

Back in 1942, during W.W.II, 400 patriotic young Americans from the Navajo nation were recruited and trained by the Marines to use their native language to transmit secret military information. They were dubbed 'windtalkers,' a name that evokes their spirituality and culture. Their mission's success was vital to our victory in the Pacific and theirs was the only code never broken by the Japanese. Since it was imperative "to protect the code at all costs," the Marines assigned to watch over the Navajos in combat faced a provocative moral dilemma: if a Navajo was captured, his Marine escort would have to kill him rather than have him taken prisoner.

Dour Joe Enders (Nicolas Cage) is war-weary, suffering serious eardrum damage and post-traumatic stress. Yet his devotion to duty propels him back into battling the Japanese in the Saipan invasion, where he's partnered with friendly yet fearful Ben Yahzee (Adam Beach), who transmits radio bulletins from the front-lines to his pal Charlie Whitehorse (Roger Willie), who's guarded by genial Ox Anderson (Christian Slater) - and this latter duo's wood flute-harmonica duets are poignant. Mark Ruffalo, Noah Emmerich, Brian Van Holt, Martin Henderson and Peter Stormare complete the stereotypical platoon. The hypothetical premise is challenging but writers John Rice & Joe Batteer lift liberally from Terrence Malick's "The Thin Red Line," plus other war movies, and their weak, simplistic dialogue is drenched with clichés. Director John Woo stages some harrowing, graphic combat sequences and scores with several solid, suspenseful moments that determine who will survive. On the Granger Movie Gauge of 1 to 10, "Windtalkers" is a compelling 8, revealing and reveling in the ingenuity and bravery of these unsung Navajo heroes

NIC INFORMATION

If anyone is interested in helping out with the newsletter, calendar, chats, doing research, or just keeping the list in good working order, we would love the help, and your input!! E-mail nicinfo-owner@yahooogroups.com

If your N.I.C. subscription ever becomes too heavy to handle or you're going on vacation or moving, you can do two things, have your mail options changed to...

1 - "digest" (messages arrive in batches of 25 or fewer, without attachments)

2 - "no mail." With "no mail," you can read messages (and open attachments) directly from the Internet. (This is good if you don't have high-speed access.) You can change your mail options yourself by going to <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/nicinfo/>. You will be asked to sign in if you've never done so before. If you can't remember your password, request a change to a new one that you can remember. Once you've signed in, you can also access "Chat" and "Files" and "Photos" and other areas of interest.

Please keep the Nics Information Club discussion list fun for everyone

1) Keep your comments respectful of Nicolas and his family. After all, he is the reason we exist, we do not condone the spread of hurtful tabloid rumors. We do, however, allow tabloid photos, as they tend to be more accurate. If you have doubts about a tidbit you just found, send it to one of the staff members so that the moderating staff can mull it over before sending it to the group.

2) Even though his house is on the Hollywood Star Tour, Nicolas's home address is not to be posted to the list in an effort to give him an inkling of privacy.

3) Please keep your comments respectful of other members. By all means, have serious discussions. Just edit out any personal insults before sending. Remember Nicolas' golden rule: "It's ok to be different". Meeting people online from different cultures, religions, perspectives, and backgrounds makes our lives much richer. We can learn a lot from each other. Remember: "It is nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice." (Cage)
